DISSIPATION IN READING. There are so many forms of dissipation that The Optic can neither diagnose nor prescribe for all at once. Each one, too, has its very worst forms, and its particular enemies Dissipation in reading is just now in the writer's mind, for it is such a prevalent vice, it is a wonder all the clergymen and teachers of Las Vegas are not denouncing it. Certainly, it is difficult to say which is the worst, no reading or reading by a unanimous vote, protesting to "kill time." The non-reader may at least think, while on the other hand the skimmer over of light trash, may talk but seldom thinks. Parents do which contemplates the correction of not fully realize the importance of lefects in the present law governing the literature supplied to their chil- the inerstate commerce commission

The advertiser who throws into the dooryard the beginning of a trashy novel to attract purchasers, should be chased out by a savage bull dog. Such stuff, for it is entitled to no higher name, unduly excites the imagination, creates a morbid condition of mind and is pestilential to the household wherever it is allowed. The books stock industry by T. W. Tomlinson. you read, like the friends with whom rallway representative of the Chiyou associate, influence the life.

Parents, teachers, and clergymen should make a continuous effort to encourage the reading of good, wholesome books, and to prevent the reading of bad ones.

Hasty reading, the mere skimming over the surface, is also bad in its effects. Read carefully, digest well, should be the rule. History, blography, truthful tales of travel and exploration, are far better than the graphical errors. Those who reside dinary requirements of standard rule highly-colored, sensational reading, which pictures life as it is not and creates a longing for an ideal and imaginary career, which can have no existence in real life.

Life is intensely practical. It is truly real and earnest, and whatever influence can be worked to awaken noble aspirations in actual life within the sphere of the real, is helpful but that reading which creates only false ideals, impractical and undesirable, is very harmful.

To all our readers The Optic suggests, read and think. Discard that baneful method which seeks only to pass away time, and adopt the method which when you have read a book, will enable you to rise from the reading informed in something practical and useful and require your children to abstain from the hot house trash hurtful to mind and soul.

The Census. The senate has refused to adopt a house resolution extending the scope of the census so as to include a large amount of extraneous matter. Mr. Chandler led the opposition, stating that every census enumerator would now have to ask nearly two hundred questions at each house or farm which he visited. The schedule of population alone regulres no less than twenty-eight raplies or statements. All this work must be come in one month, and Mr. Chandler asserted-and my doubt with propriety—that if it were increased it would be impossible for may conscientions man to do the work properly in the time allotted.

MRS. CAROLINE EVANS.

WINE OF CARDUI

It is a mistake to take any and every kind of medicine when you are sick. There is danger in it. Most of the so-called cures for "female weakness" do nothing more than deaden the pain temporarily, and when the effect wears away the patient is weaker and sicker than before. It is never wise to take chances. You have only one life, and that is dear and precious. If you have any pain, ache, disorder or weakness in the feminine organs, nothing will help you like Wine of Cardui. It helps do away with morning sickness during the early stages of pregnancy, and modifies the pains of childbirth; recovery is rapid and future health is assured. The Wine is purely vegetable, being made of herbs whose medicinal properties act directly upon the organs of womenhood. It is a long-tried remedy, and has many years of success behind it. It
